Louisville Public Library Starts Teen Volunteer Summer Squad Teen Volunteers Wanted for Children's Summer Reading Program

LOUISVILLE, CO — May 10, 2013 — If you are a teen age 13 or older and looking for a fun and rewarding volunteer opportunity this summer, the Louisville Library wants you. The Library's Teen Volunteer Summer Squad is offering teens a chance to earn volunteer hours and be part of the library's biggest programming event of the year. For at least two hours each week, teens will interact with children to help them with online registration, hand out prizes, assist with program set-up, and track reading progress.

Interested volunteers are asked to come to the Library to pick up a registration packet and sign up for an orientation session. Orientation is being offered on May 29 from 3-4pm and on May 30, from 6-7pm. For more information, call 303-335-4821 or email childrensreference@louisvilleco.gov.
